

Anglican Catholic Church
The Trinitarian
6413 S. Elati St.
Littleton, CO 80120
ADDRESS SERVICE REQUESTED

Non-Profit
US Postage
PAID
Permit No. 5377
Denver, CO

JOURNEY TO SUDAN

Children wearing t-shirts identifying themselves as Christians dance in Aweil Town.

Susan Lintz of Newport Beach, Calif. recently visited the ACC's Diocese of Aweil, a beacon of hope in the troubled African nation of Sudan. Here is what she saw:

In April I embarked on a transforming journey of faith. I traveled to Sudan to visit Bishop Wilson Garang and the Diocese of Aweil, which he leads.

We began in Nairobi, Kenya and flew to Juba, capital of semi-autonomous Southern Sudan. There we caught a United Nations flight that finally brought us to Aweil. We arrived on Friday and spent the

Please see SUDAN/6

The author with Bishop Garang's sister, Abuk.

Priest says prayer made would-be stabber stop

A South African ACC priest credits the power of prayer with saving him from being stabbed by a screwdriver-wielding thief.

The Rev. Michael Williams, priest-in-charge of Christ the Priest, Bonteheuvel, Cape Town, was delivering food parcels to the needy May 7 when he noticed a man on a bicycle, with another man pushing it.

"Then two other men stopped my car and said those men had robbed a man," Father Williams told the Daily Voice, a Cape Town newspaper. He then reversed his car and followed the two thieves further into a park when the man on the bicycle got off.

"He picked up a rock and had a screwdriver on his hand," the priest said. "I got out of the car as he lifted his arms."

Father Williams then stretched out his hand and said to the assailant, in Afrikaans: "In die naam van die Here Jesus beveal ek jou om die klip neer te sit" (In the name of our Lord Jesus I command you to put down the stone).

He further ordered the man to change his ways and told him God loved him despite his evil deeds.

"He looked at me, lowered his

Please see STABBER/2